CyWee Joins the Wi-Fi Alliance®

Membership allows CyWee to help shape the future of the Wi-Fi® industry.

TAIPEI, Taiwan – August 18, 2011 -- CyWee Group Ltd., a leading provider of wireless consumer products and enterprise solutions, today announced its membership to the Wi-Fi Alliance. A prestigious global non-profit industry association, its membership is dedicated to widespread adoption of the Wi-Fi technology standard through technology development, market building, and regulatory programs.

CyWee's enrollment into the Wi-Fi Alliance allows the Company to participate in groups that work to shape the future of the Wi-Fi industry. Members of the Wi-Fi Alliance meet at regularly scheduled intervals to establish the test and certification process standards for various Wi-Fi CERTIFIED™ technology programs. A manufactured product must undergo a rigorous set of interoperability tests to carry the Wi-Fi CERTIFIED logo, helping to ensure that products from various manufacturers will work together and are fully compatible with critical elements of the IEEE 802.11 standard.

"We are delighted to be accepted to the Wi-Fi Alliance," said Joe Ye, CEO of CyWee. "The Wi-Fi Alliance represents a critical step in our product strategy and we are committed to wholeheartedly supporting the organization's standards and certifications. One of our primary goals is to enhance the user experience of our customers through Wi-Fi standards. Moreover, we believe that through our membership we can achieve positive advancement to the industry in general."

"We congratulate CyWee on joining our membership," said Edgar Figueroa, CEO of the Wi-Fi Alliance. "CyWee has demonstrated its commitment to a good user experience with advanced Wi-Fi solutions by joining our organization."
